

A long, empty rectangular box at the top of the page, likely intended for a student's name or a title.

My characters

A large, empty rectangular box on the left side of the page, intended for students to write down the characters from their story.

My Setting

My Story Hill

Key words

A large, empty circular shape on the right side of the page, intended for students to write down key words from their story.