

How Can We Show Respect?

Showing respect is a way to let people know you care for them and understand them. By showing respect, people let each other know that they understand their feelings and wishes. Respect makes someone feel special and loved.

It is important to respect yourself and to respect other people. To show people respect you can:

Be aware of the talents and qualities of others.

Treat others how you would like to be treated.

Be proud of another person's achievements and talents.

Think about the feelings of others.

Look at people when they talk to you.

Celebrate differences between people.

Celebrate similarities between people.

Ask others about how they feel and listen closely.

Can you think of any others?

Listen to others rather than talking all the time.
