General Comments:

'The provision worked much better for us during this lockdown so thank you very much.'

'Fabulous provision of online learning by Sicklinghall School. All of the teaching and support staff had an important role in ensuring success in the vital role the school played in the continuing learning and emotional development throughout the lockdowns.'

'Other than to once again a huge thank you for everything. Every member of the team should be incredibly proud of the way the School has responded to the impact of this pandemic.'

I am incredibly proud of our team of staff and Governors here at Sicklinghall Community Primary School. This has been a new way of delivering education for everyone and one which has been emotionally and mentally consuming so to know that it has made a less than ideal situation more positive for our children and families is fantastic.

In addition, the team across the whole federation have demonstrated the incredible benefits of having two schools; each staff member was accountable for certain aspects of the lesson plans and resources for both schools – their dedication to working collaboratively has been fantastic.

Thank you once again for every message of support that you have sent during the last year of lockdown.

Yours sincerely,

Zoe Pickard
